Tappan Allocates $716,592

850 Share Firm Profits

Distribution of $716,592 to 850 Tappan Stove company employes as their share of the company's profits in 1948 was announced today by W. R. Tappan, vice president of the firm.

Based on the contribution of the participating employes, each received $3.67 for every dollar he saved. The total amount average $843.05 per employe, including the $50,000 cash bonus that was distributed at Christmas.

An employe participating in the plan since it was first inaugurated six years ago has approximately $1,800 credited to his account.

The 200 employes furloughed by the company last February have been credited with their share of the 1948 profits and, under the plan, they can borrow from the fund for sustenance during the furlough period, it was announced.

The 1948 contribution made by Tappan swells the company's contribution for the last six years to $1,436,592.

In a statement issued to all employes giving them a report on the Tappan profit-sharing and retirement fund, Tappan said: "These figures indicate that we have experienced an exceptionally profitable year; the best by far in the history of the company."

PLAN REVISED

Under the revised profit-sharing plan which was effective Jan. 1, 1948, contributions to the fund are based on the profits of the company before income taxes are paid instead of paying on the basis of earnings per share of stock under the old plan. The original plan was started in 1943.

"Besides being a more liberal plan," Tappan said, "the new formula provides that one-half of the first $100,000 of the company's annual contribution is to be divided evenly among all employes and distributed in cash at Christmas time.

The balance of the company's contribution each year is paid into the fund and credited to the accounts of contributing employes in proportion to the employe contribution made during the year.

Employes contribute either two, three, four or five per cent of their wages to the fund and that amount is matched on a ratio basis of the company's profits.

One of the features of the new plan provides for loans to be made to employes in case of emergencies and for real estate purchases.

Plant to Idle 1,100

Eleven hundred Westinghouse workers will be laid off April 4, J. H. Ashbaugh, vice president of the corporation's appliance division, announced last night.

The decision to furlough workers at the plant was reached late Friday afternoon after a six-hour conference of company officials.

Ashbaugh said the lay-off was a result of a "cut in production of electric ranges, laundromats, clothes dryers and small appliances.

The lay-off will reduce employment at the plant to approximately 6,100, about 1,000 higher than the company's prewar employment figure. Ashbaugh said the furloughing would be based on seniority and that workers affected have been hired within the past two years.

Announcement of the Westinghouse employment drop raised the total of idled workers in the city since Jan. 1 to 2,400. Westinghouse alone has furloughed 1,600 of the total.

Ashbaugh said the assembly of some of the company's products will go on one shift beginning the week of April 4. The refrigerator line, for the present, he said, will not be cut back and will continue on two shifts.

Company officials reported earlier this week that the range assembly line would go on one shift on April 4. The line has been operating on a two-shift basis.

Any increase in employment at the plant, Ashbaugh said, "will depend upon sales volume."

Cool Air Chases Spring

Spring fever invaded Mansfield yesterday as temperatures rose to a high of 69 degrees shortly after noon for the warmest day since last fall.

The entire state basked under a warm spring sun as temperatures soared toward summer-like heights.

Columbus recorded a maximum of 76 degrees and Chesapeake 75. Findlay and Toledo each had a high of 74 degrees.

However, a cool air mass from the west chased Ohio's first real taste of spring right out of the state today.

DOWN 20 DEGREES

Temperatures over the state skidded some 20 degrees below yesterday's highs, and brought increased cloudiness and occassional showers.

Mansfield's temperature fell steadily through the night to a low of 42 at 6:30 a. m. today. The mercury had risen to 48 at noon, but cloudiness and showers accompanied the rise.

The official forecast for today is cloudy and mild with some rain. There will be scattered showers tonight and Sunday, followed by somewhat cooler weather tomorrow afternoon.

Link Eisler To Top Reds

Budenz Testifies On Conspiracy

NEW YORK — (INS) — The name of Gerhardt Eisler—alleged No. 1 Soviet agent in the U. S.—was projected today into the communist conspiracy trial.

Eisler, a German citizen free on bail in alien deportation proceedings and in cases involving passport frauds and contempt of congress, was linked to two of the 11 communist leaders accused of advocating and teaching the violent overthrow of the government.

Prof. Louis F. Budenz of Fordham university, who quit the party four years ago to return to the Catholic church, testified that Eisler's status was revealed to him by Eugene Dennis, general secretary of the party.

Budenz said that Dennis told him Eisler was the "representative of the communist international in the U. S."

When he was managing editor of the "Daily Worker," Budenz said, Jack Stachel, the party's educational director, brought him articles written by Eisler and ordered him to print them.

In his third day on the stand as a government witness, the former communist disclosed more details of alleged plans of the U. S. communits to participate in a Moscow-directed "word revolution."

He testified that a few weeks after William Z. Foster assumed command of the party he urged communist-inspired strikes throughout the country to hamper America's war effort.

Sally Clings to Hope for Freedom

WASHINGTON — (UP) — Mildred (Axis Sally) Gillars still clung to a hope of freedom today as she began serving a 10 to 30 year sentence for treason.

Her attorney, James J. Laughlin, said he planned to ask the U. S. Court of Appeals on Monday for a hearing sometime in May on her request for a new trial.

She will become eligible for parole in 10 years. If she is unable to pay the fine she must serve another 30 days.

Oklahoma Village Demolished

National Guard Searches Ruins

DALLAS — (U.P.) — Tornadoes and savage winds whipped through Oklahoma and Texas today, leaving at least two dead and 48 reported injured.

Twisters struck at Crowder, Okla., and Springtown, Tex., in the pre-dawn hours. One person was killed and 25 reported injured in Oklahoma and another four were injured at Springtown.

Only one building was left standing as the twister tore through Crowder. Red Cross officials immediately sent emergency crews into the area.

Winds gauged at 75 miles an hour and a tornado at Desdemona, Tex., late yesterday had taken one life and injured 19 persons in nine nearby communities.

The Oklahoma State Highway Patrol reported that Mrs. Jane Colburn, 45, of Crowder died in a McAlester hospital, where 25 other persons had been taken by a fleet of ambulances dispatched to the small community after the storm struck.

Nearly two hours later, the boiling funnel of wind struck Westville, Okla., about 100 miles northeast of Crowder. Damage to buildings in the business district was estimated at $150,000.

First reports said three persons were dead at Crowder and nearby Canadian, but the patrol reported later that there was no definite information. Telephone lines were down and the only contact was through the highway patrol radio from McAlester to Oklahoma City.

At Springtown, the Texas Highway Patrol said 12 houses were flattened. Many minor injuries were also reported.

Members of the 180th Infantry company of the Oklahoma National Guard were called immediately to search farm homes and the area around Crowder for more possible injured. Ground troops in jeeps were aided by an airplane observer.

Red Cross Nears Goal

Two more wards, the Roseland district and Lexington village, were over the top today in their reports to Red Cross headquarters. Their funds helped swell the grand total to $41,633.40—within $7,500 of the quota.

Mrs. M. F. Gowing, chairman, reported a total of $373 in precinct B of the second ward with a quota of $350. In precinct C of Ward Six, receipts were $115.25 with a quota of $105. Mrs. Edward Smith sr., was the chairman.

Roseland's quota was $80 and Mrs. Forest Pittinger turned in $80.10, while from Lexington village, which is not yet completed, Mrs. Don Cover, chairman, reported $272.35. The quota was $265.

Additional 100 per cent firms included: Industrial Commission of Ohio, Office of the Housing Expediter, County Commissioners office, Probate court office, Department of Public Welfare, Office of Kramer and Ward, office of Negin and Kalish, Roseland school, Isaly Dairy store, National Cash Register, Sam Fox, jeweler, and the Barnes Manufacturing company.

PRAYING PICKETS—Prayers are offered by some of the estimated 800 anti-communist pickets protesting the "Cultural and Scientific Conference for World Peace" in New York City. On the outside of the Waldorf-Astoria hotel the anti-Reds carried placards protesting against the allegedly communist meeting, pausing at times to sing the Star Spangled Banner. Inside the hotel, a Soviet delegate opened the conference with an indirect attack against the Atlantic Pact.

Thousands Protest Culture Conference

NEW YORK—(UP)—New York became the cold war's hottest ideological battleground today with left-wing and anti-communist conventions in full blast, and with thousands of pickets heckling both meetings.

The biggest picket lines formed early at Carnegie Hall and the Waldorf-Astoria hotel on fashionable Park avenue where the allegedly communist-dominated Cultural and Scientific Conference for World Peace opened actual discussions.

The conference got under way last night with a $10 a plate roast turkey and strawberries banquet, after which one speaker jolted delegates from the iron curtain countries with an anti-communist speech.

Communists and various progressive groups refused to state plans for picketing the conference of the Americans for Intellectual Freedom at Freedom House. The AIF meeting was in avowed opposition to the cultural and scientific conference.

Hundreds of police covered the rival meetings to guard against violence. The Saturday holiday was expected to boost the number of pickets at each meeting.

Only about 1,000 pickets showed up during the day and another 2,000 last night. However, the demonstrators claimed that the 10,000 onlookers were "sympathizers."

BLASTS REDS

Norman Cousins, youthful editor of the Saturday Review of Literature provided the surprise of the evening at the banquet with his hard-hitting, anti-communist speech.

He bitterly attacked the American Communist party and nations which "draw blueprints for their painters and writers and composers."

Playwright Lillian Hellman, who followed Cousins, commented acidly: "I didn't know one talked about one's hosts at dinner, Mr. Cousins."

Questioned, Kills Self

CAMBRIDGE—(AP)—Two state patrolmen halted a motorist, then watched him drink a fatal dose of poison last night.

Highway Patrolmen C. C. Williams and Fred Feightner said they stopped the man after a gas station proprietor reported a motorist, driving a car with Indiana license tags, was behaving suspiciously.

Halted for questioning, the man reached in back for a bottle and drank the contents. After he became ill, the officers called an ambulance, but the man died en route to St. Francis hospital here.

Coroner W. A. Larrick attributed death to an unidentified poison.

Complicating the case was the presence of two Zanesville youths who said they were hitchhikers. Their names were withheld pending completion of investigation.

Dr. Larrick said papers on the dead man bore the name Merrick Lemert Hipson. There was no address.

12,000 Idled After Workman Suspended

AKRON — (INS) — Some 12,000 employes of the B. F. Goodrich company of Akron were idle today as a result of the suspension of one worker and the unauthorized walkout of 250 others.

A company spokesman said yesterday that the man was suspended Wednesday "for good and sufficient" reasons.

8 Fined In Slots Case

Eagles Officers Get Sentences

ASHLAND—Three trustees and five officers of the local aerie of the Fraternal Order of Eagles were fined a total of $100 and costs and individually given 10-day suspended jail sentences this morning in Ashland police court by Judge Harold E. Andrews on a charge of keeping and exhibiting gambling devices.

Gene Nichols, attorney for the officers, represented the group in court. The local Eagles still are facing charges before the state liquor board. The charges arose from a raid Thursday night by state liquor department inspectors when three slot machines were confiscated at the lodge home. It followed complaints the machines were being exhibited at an establishment licensed to sell beer.

The devices were found in the main club room and were taken to police headquarters. Judge Andrews ordered the slots destroyed with money found in them to be returned to the lodge.

The trustees named in the charge were Ralph McNabb, Clarence Cordell and Virgil Newman. They posted $500 bond against future display and operation of gaming devices.

ZANESVILLE — (INS) — A woman member of the jury that convicted Alfred Ferrell of murdering his 71-year-old mother had changed her mind today.

Mrs. Kathleen Nethers filed an affidavit in Muskingum county Common Pleas Court saying that she was not convinced of Ferrell's guilt.

She said she voted to convict the man of first degree murder so the jury could be dismissed and Mrs. Willis Oliver, a jury member, could go home.

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — (UP) — Mrs. John Lemay, who was speechless for two years because of a nervous ailment, promised today she was "never going to quit talking" again.

The attractive 19-year-old housewife was unable to explain why she suddenly got her voice back. She just called it a "miracle" and then set out to "make up for lost time."

Two years of silence didn't hamper Mrs. Lemay too much. She finished high school and got married during the time.

'Ike' Ill; Two Others 'Bow Out'

Smith, Leahy Resign Posts

(Compiled from wire services)

With General Dwight D. Eisenhower reported ill, Admiral William D. Leahy officially retired, and Gen. Walter Bedell Smith 'out' as ambassador to Moscow, the Truman administration is virtually stripped of men who once played important roles in the U. S. foreign policy.

Eisenhower, confined to his hotel apartment since Monday, has had to cancel all social and official engagements. An announcement by the national military establishment said his condition was "an acute case of gastro-enteritis."

He will have to have complete rest for some time before being able to resume his duties as presiding officer of the joint chiefs of staff, according to his physician.

Leahy who during the war was U. S. envoy to Vichy France, was Mr. Truman's chief of staff. In the early days of the administration he reportedly played a large part in developing this nation's "tough" policy towards Russia.

The President accepted Gen. Smith's resignation yesterday.

The resignations which stripped Mr. Truman's cabinet of the military leaders started in January when the ailing Gen. George C. Marshall quit as secretary of state and was replaced by Dean Acheson.

At the same time Robert A. Lovett was succeeded as undersecretary by Budget Director James E. Webb. Lovett was wartime assistant secretary of war for air.

Secretary of Defense James Forrestal's resignation is effective at the end of this month.

The Adario, Ganges, and Shenandoah communities were affected, Iden said.

Eight Officers Enter House

Police arrested 58 persons at 4 a. m. today in a raid on a house at 255½ North Main street. Officers described the establishment as a house of ill fame.

Fifty-two were charged with loitering in a house of ill fame and six others were booked for keeping a house of ill fame, prostitution and aiding and abetting prostitution.

Charged with keeping and operating the house were Silas M. Brooks, 49, of 289 Orange street, and Ben Hill Williams, 31, of 97 East Sixth street.

Police today also filed similar charges against six other persons arrested early yesterday morning. That house was located at 97 East Sixth street. Sterling Scarborough, 97 East Sixth street, was charged with keeping that house of ill fame and was released on a $500 bond.

Municipal Judge H. H. Schettler today continued until April 4 hearings for the 58 persons arrested in the North Main raid.

A squad of eight police officers led by Capt. Eugene E. Hartnett made the raid early this morning. They transported the 58 persons to city jail in two police cruisers.

WATCHED BY POLICE

"We have been watching the house for some time," Police Chief Jesse Schwab said, "and this morning the raid was made and everything clicked."

Charged with engaging in prostitution at the North Main street house were Jean Johnson, who gave her address as Cleveland, and Mary Kelley, 39, of 32 Baltic avenue, Atlantic City.

Evelyn Lawson, 24, of 253 North Diamond street, and Lee Mantel Bridges, 28, of 216½ North Main street, were both charged with aiding and abetting prostitution.

The arrests yesterday morning came after Thomas J. Scott filed charges of assault and battery against Sterling Scarborough and William Eans. The two men were charged with assault and battery.

Police today said the additional charges had been filed against the men. Eans was charged with loitering at a house of ill fame.

Arrested for engaging in prostitution at the house on East Sixth street were Judy Williams and Mary Schoolfield. James Schoolfield and Patricia Williams were charged with residing at a house of ill fame. All gave their address as 97 East Sixth street. Would Oust Guard Head

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The National Guard association accused Lt. Gen. Elwood Quesada today of being "eminently unfit" for handling the nation's air national guard and reserve affairs.

Maj. Gen. E. A. Walsh, adjutant general of Minnesota and president of the Guard association, said Quesada should be removed from the job of heading the air force guard-reserve affairs unit because Quesada belonged to a committee whose job is to "perform the pick and shovel work preparatory to federaling the Air National Guard."

Walsh has opened a vigorous campaign against recommendations for removing the air guard from state control and placing it under the federal air force.

"The Air Force," Walsh said, "has become entirely too big for its britches, and we sincerely trust that the President and Congress will assume the control and jurisdiction with which they are clothed."

Beauty Spurns Her Aerial Savior

Marries Pilot to Get Plane Ticket Home

NEW ORLEANS — (UP) — After a night alone in his hotel bridal suite, Capt. George Cauthen was ready today for another try at convincing "Miss New Orleans of 1948" that marriage means more than an airplane ride.

The dashing airline pilot had no luck in his first encounter with his beautiful bride here yesterday. The former Barbara Jean Floyd said flatly that she married him in South America just to get a plane ticket home.

Cauthen thought maybe the circumstances of their meeting went against him. They met in a public bar and a photographer popped flash bulbs while his 18-year-old wife told him she wanted a divorce.

Cauthen said later he would make one more effort to see Barbara Jean—alone.

When he first got here from Miami Thursday night, Cauthen tried to visit his bride at her home, but he never got past the front door. He finally arranged by telephone to meet her brother in a bar. While they were talking, Mrs. Cauthen flounced in.

"I came to tell you what you wanted to hear," she snapped. "I want a divorce."

This was just what Cauthen didn't want to hear. He said her refusal to live with him would cause him to "lose face with the natives of Colombia, where he worked with a branch of Pan American Airways.

Cauthen and the beauty contest winner were married in Medellin, Colombia. She got stranded there while on a South American tour with a theatrical troupe.

SYMBOLS OF EASTER—The 300 crosses in the collection of Dr. Charles F. Sheriff, pastor of the St. Matthew's Lutheran church, bring a message of sacrifice and self-denial in the Lenten season. Dr. Sheriff points to the first cross, given to him by a friend, which started his hobby eight years ago. The collection includes items from every part of the globe.

Symbols Linked With World's History

Rev. Sheriff Collects 300 Crosses

The cross, symbol of Easter, has been used for centuries for ornamental purposes even in non-Christian countries, according to Dr. Charles F. Sheriff, Mansfield pastor.

Dr. Sheriff, pastor of the St. Matthew's Lutheran church, has collected 300 crosses from every part of the earth during the past eight years. His collection is one of the largest in the nation.

In India there is the Flylot cross which has been reverenced for the past 3,000 years. In Germany there is the Iron Cross, a memorial of distinguished service to the war heroes of the country. The cross in distorted form, was Hitler's "Swastika", symbol of conquering power.

There is the Celtic high cross which, erected at highway intersections in Scotland provide landmarks and direction markers for lonely travelers. Sometimes these highly - decorated crosses are as high as 15 feet.

All these and many more are among the collection which Dr. Sheriff keeps packed away in suitcases, ready to be taken with him on lecture trips.

Dr. Sheriff was encouraged to start his collection in 1940 when a small cross taken from a soldier in the Battle of Waterloo was given to him by a friend.

Because of the age of some of the crosses, a cash value is impossible to set, Dr. Sheriff said.

"I haven't any idea what they would be worth," he declared. "There are some that are invaluable, like the small cross reputed to have been made from the cross on which Christ was crucified and one which I value the highest in my collection. It was discovered by Sister Helena, mother of Constantine, the first emperor to embrace Christianity. That was about 312 A. D."

All the leading countries of the world are represented in Dr. Sheriff's collection and many of the smaller ones. There are crosses from New Zealand, Japan, Jerusalem, Bethlehem, Canada, South America, the Philippine Islands, Sicily, and many more.

ONE FROM TAVERN

One of the most interesting crosses is a small ivory piece that was taken from Mansfield's first tavern. There are crocheted crosses, donated by grandmothers of Dr. Sheriff's friends. There is a cross made of toothpicks, thousands of them, contributed by a penitentiary prisoner near Plymouth Rock.

There are plastic crosses from Los Angeles, in one of which a real snake is entwined. There is the huge one made of wax inclosed in a glass case that is more than 100 years old. A number of the crosses come from the section near Gross Bevier Au in Germany, one of the most-bombed spots in Europe.

These have been sent to Dr. Sheriff by Rev. Robert Buchner, a Lutheran minister in Germany who took some of the crosses from the bombed ruins, and others he had made specially for Dr. Sheriff, who learned of the minister through a relative traveling in this country.

Sometimes Dr. Sheriff and Mrs Sheriff have had amazing luck while traveling.

"Every place we go, we look for crosses," Dr. Sheriff said. "We have found many in antique shops but the most prolific spots are the pawn shops."

Crosses from Japan have mostly been sent by service men Dr. Sheriff knew and who also knew of his fondness for crosses and his hobby of collecting them.

One of the most exquisitely-carved pieces is the Christ, sculptored more than 100 years ago and placed on a wooden cross made by a native of the Philippines who carved gunstocks for Gen. MacArthur during the war.

Often Dr. Sheriff gives a lecture in connection with his display.

"I always close with the meaning of the Cross," he said. "That I think is six-fold. It stands first for salvation; second, for sacrifice and self-denial; for spiritual power; for victory and triumph.

"And through its meaning we have found some of our finest hymns. Finally it stands for permanence and everlasting life throughout the world."

Gives Reasons for Filibuster Victory

There were five main reasons why the enemies of civil rights were able to pull victory out of defeat. It might be helpful to see what the reasons for that victory are to prepare for the struggle ahead which must be made to avert dictatorial rule of the Congress.

1. Vacillation of the Senate Democratic leadership during the first two months of the 81st Congress lost precious time in breaking the filibuster before rent controls, reciprocal trade agreements, a more equitable labor law, ECA and national defense bills were ready.

2. The filibusterers prepared their fight with meticulous care, unity and determination. Fired by the determination to hold on to the "rotten borough" system upon which their jobs depended they left nothing undone.

The proponents of amendment of the rules against filibusters, with the exception of Senators Morse, Pepper, Humphrey and one or two others, made no real preparations for the fight.

3. The incredible Republican strategy, culminating in Senator Vandenberg's bitter attack on Vice-President Barkley's ruling was the turning point of battle. The arm-flailing pomposity of minority leader Kenneth Wherry's speeches failed totally to cover up his understanding with the southern Democrats.

4. The predicament of organized labor was grave. Eager to achieve amendment of the Taft-Hartley Act before expiring contracts had to be re-negotiated, labor was faced with a difficult choice of loyalties to Taft-Hartley Act repeal and their pledges on civil rights.

5. Enemies of President Truman attempted to capitalize on his absence from Washington during the crucial struggle for that part of his program which had played so major a role in his spectacular victory — his unequivocal stand on civil rights. This charge is as baseless as the one against organized labor. The White House did everything possible up to the point of the executive branch of the government appearing to interfere with the legislative branch.

The brittle temper of members of the Senate during the filibuster was significant. Some were physically exhausted, their nerves frayed by the bitter struggle. One example of this was Senator Wherry's interrogation of Senator Hubert Humphrey, after the Minnesota senator had been speaking less than one-half hour, as to how long he planned to speak.

A dismayingly small percentage of the Senate emerged from the unseemly brawl with equal or added lustre to the reputations with which they entered the fray. The number can be counted on the fingers of one hand—Senators Claude Pepper of Florida, Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, Wayne Morse of Oregon, Estes Kefauver of Tennessee and Irving Ives of New York, and perhaps one or two others.

It remains to be seen what the American people will say when they wake up to what has been done to democracy.

Indian Guide Program Adds Scalp to Belt

The Mansfield YMCA's Indian Guide program, for first through third-graders, has added another school's scalp to its belt.

Maurice W. Taylor, YMCA general secretary, spoke to the fathers of boys at the Rebecca Grubaugh school about the features of the Indian Guide program.

The fathers met at the home of William A. Calhoun, 1377 Park avenue west road, to hold the organizational meeting for the Indian Guide group to be formed at the Grubaugh school.

The fathers and sons will meet together at 7 p. m. April 4 at the home of Thomas C. Blizzard, 248 Rae avenue, for the first general meeting of the group.

Drive carefully tonight and tomorrow—and give the train the right of way at grade crossings.

When more gold is mined than is needed, some of it is put back in the ground—which may give John L. Lewis an idea for use when there's an oversupply of coal.

Those Pyramid clubs, which made little stir while passing through Ohio from the West, seem to be going strong in Washington—where the idea of getting something for nothing is quite firmly fixed.

Answers to McGregor's Questions

WHATEVER may be the outcome in Congress, majority opinion in this Seventeenth Ohio congressional district registers strongly against outright repeal of the Taft-Hartley law.

This is revealed by Congressman J. Harry McGregor as a part of his report on views expressed by his constituents in the six counties of this district, in response to questions which he asked in a widely distributed questionnaire.

While amending some parts of the T-H law is favored by 54 per cent of those who replied to a questionnaire, outright repeal of the law is opposed by 87 per cent, opposition majority running through all the occupations listed.

It is also noted that the question of a closed shop, which "requires an employe to be a union member in order to retain his job," won favor from only 13 per cent of those who replied, while 92 per cent favored a requirement for both labor and industrial leaders, in contract negotiations, to sign a non-communist pledge.

As to federal legislation placing medical and dental professions and operation of hospitals under government control, answers showed 90 per cent opposed, with 92 per cent registering opposition to immediate return of federal price controls.

Views on continuation of rent controls were more evenly divided, with 48 per cent for and 52 per cent against, but 92 per cent registered objection to the President's demand that he have federal control over production, with 94 per cent against federal control over wages.

Favoring repeal of federal taxes on oleomargarine were 69 per cent of those who replied, although in the farmer classification the tabulation shows 77 per cent against.

While distribution of questionnaires naturally fell far short of reaching all residents of Congressman McGregor's district, as he explains, responses represent many employment classifications and evidence an interest in public affairs which is an important requirement for intelligent participation in self-government.

Change From Glass to Paper Bottles

REACTION of housewives to the gradual change being made from glass milk bottles to paper containers will probably be the determining factor in that experiment, with appearance of excellent arguments on both sides of the question.

Becoming accustomed to the paper "bottles" should not be difficult, although some complaints have already been heard that milk or cream must immediately be turned into some other container to avoid spilling.

Breakage has always been an expensive item in connection with glass milk bottles, with fragments frequently left on streets or sidewalks. Re-use of bottles has also raised a question as to assured sanitation.

One point that merits mention, however, is that if paper containers are to be substituted for glass bottles in distributing milk there will no longer be justification for requiring customers to take a quart of milk when a pint would be sufficient, as pint-size paper containers are undoubtedly available.

Warning Seen In 'Oscar' Awards

THE ANNUAL Motion Picture Academy awards serve a double purpose. They focus attention of the nation on Hollywood's film output. And the "Oscars," as they are colloquially known, stimulate individuals in the movie industry to achieve more than money-making sensationalism in their productions.

This year the awards were more than usually significant. Six of them went to Lawrence Olivier's "Hamlet," a British-made picture with a British star. Thus Hollywood warns itself that foreign pictures—particularly those from England and Italy—are encroaching on what was once a peculiarly American domain.

And the reason is simple. The outstanding foreign films have emphasized quality and operated on the premise that a movie audience has some brains as well as emotions.

The award to Jane Wyman was also for a sensitive and very nearly tragic role rather than for the brand of superhamming that has brought fortunes to a number of mediocre performers.

With television looming large on the horizon, the movie industry does well to assess its own qualities. Film producers are undoubtedly "naturals" to take the lead in television productions. To succeed they will need to key their output to critical home audiences of all ages, tastes, and beliefs.

You'll surely find it at a Mansfield store.

Limit On Garbage Can Size

Editor News-Journal:

I am in receipt of a [illegible] the superintendent of [illegible] calling my attention to [illegible] that I am using a garbage can larger than city regulations permit.

Moving here from the West, where city management is so much more efficient and city officials are so much more progressive, it might be wise to make a suggestion or two in regard to this regulation.

As superintendent of the sanitation department, I am asking Mr. Strachan just what the word "sanitation" really means to him. Does it mean a garbage can too small so that it is overflowing, making it impossible for the cover to fit down securely, thereby providing a place for flies to breed and rats to get their nourishment? That is exactly the situation existing in my neighborhood.

When we moved here last summer and I watched the rats go in and out of garbage cans which were too full to allow the cover to fit down, I was at a loss to understand why the neighbors were so slack as to provide cans too small. Of course, now I know. Just another one of Mansfield's obsolete city regulations.

The proper officials better communicate with cities West and find out why they are so much more progressive. Incidentally, they have free garbage collection and encourage the use of a 20-gallon can so flies cannot breed and spread polio.

Another suggestion, if you please, before the rat eradication program gets under way. Make a survey and find out why rats are breeding in residential areas.

Raymond Moley's Analysis

U. S. and Mexico Battle Dread Disease

HOUSTON, Tex. — Gilbert Chesterton once said that the members of the British empire were like passengers in an omnibus. They found unity only in an accident.

The United States and Mexico have found one of the most potent stimulants of friendly relations in a common danger and a shared misfortune.

That deadly enemy of cattle and other animals, aftosa, or the foot-and-mouth disease, constitutes an ever-present problem for both nations, and its control or eradication can be accomplished only by joint efforts.

During the present week here in Houston the 72nd annual convention of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers' Association is giving major attention to the joint attack on the disease by the United States and Mexico. Members and directors of the Joint Mexico-United States Aftosa Commission are present and are giving in detail the progress of the fight against this scourge that knows no national boundaries.

It has been decided by both countries that a rigid closing of the 1,900-mile border between the two countries, even by a ten-foot barbed wire fence, would be an inadequate and unfriendly remedy. Only an attack on the disease itself can be practical and lasting.

* * *

Number of Epidemics.

THIS disease has appeared in the United States on 10 different occasions. The first epidemic was in 1870; the most recent, in 1929. Losses suffered by our cattle raisers ran to more than $150,000,000, and the cost of federal and state governments in fighting the disease was $25,000,000 more.

It is estimated that 345,000 cattle, sheep, hogs and other cloven hoofed animals were slaughtered in these wars. If the disease should reappear in the United States the costs would be far greater than in any preceding attack.

A raging attack in Mexico started in 1946. This was traced to the importation of some Brazilian cattle. The government of Mexico officially asked for aid, and Congress responded with legislation and funds. The joint commission was formed and was given authority by both countries to carry on its work.

The infected zone is an area in south central Mexico, 250 miles wide, running from coast to coast. This area is quarantined. The attack on the disease includes quarintine, disinfection, limited slaughter of animals, general inspection and vaccination.

The greatest hope for permanent relief is in vaccination. This method of control is fairly new in North America. The first vaccines were brought in from Europe and South America, but extensive means of producing vaccine here are now being built up.

It goes without saying that the vaccination of millions of cattle is an undertaking of great moment. Some 3,000 employes are already working at this task under the commission, 500 of whom are from the United States.

It is too early to tell how permanent the immunity will be. The process is still experimental but the hopes of the commission are high.

Meanwhile, the threat to the United States is subsiding. The disease has not crossed the borders, and its incidence is being pushed steadily southward. But this effort will require at least five years after the present outbreak has disappeared.

It is refreshing here in this joint meeting to note the complete lack of suspicion and antagonism between these representatives of two nations whose past relations have never been of the best. This joint effort is worth hundreds of good will speeches and pious resolution. It is friendship born of practical good works.

Minority Rules Senate

By THOMAS L. STOKES

THOUGH of little comfort to President Truman in his present difficulties with Congress, an analysis is enlightening to show why the will of a majority in a national election—a so-called "mandate" — can be flouted immediately in Congress on legislation proposed by a victorious President.

Basic in Congress as a whole of course, is the fact that the split-off is southern conservatives to join Republicans can wreck a majority in both House and Senate when Democrats are in power, which has been happening so long now that it is well-known to the nation.

Of current interest is the Senate. An analysis here recently of the 52 members who signed the petition that caused a capitulation by the administration leadership in the anti-filibuster fight revealed that they came largely from the South and west of the Mississippi river.

There was negligible support from the big populous states in the North, East and Middle West which were largely influential, for instance, in putting platform pledges in civil rights in the national conventions of the two major parties where representation is on the basis of population in contrast to the Senate where every state, large or small, has two votes.

For a more detailed analysis of how a majority of the people have only a minority influence in the Senate we are indebted to Senator Douglas (D., Ill.), who showed how the original compromise in the constitutional convention, giving equality in the senate of the small states, works today very much against those who live in big states.

He explained, first, how the 25 smaller states, with a population in 1940 of 25,000,000—19 per cent of the total—have 50 seats in the Senate, a majority. The other 23 states, with 81 per cent of the population, or 106,500,000 in 1940, have only 46 seats.

"One-fifth of the population," he said, "already controls the Senate, even on those matters which are decided by a simple majority of the Senate, while the remaining four-fifths of the population are represented by a minority, even in cases where a simple majority is required."

* * *

Minority Does Deciding.

THEN he took the 24 states of the south Atlantic, east south central, west south central and mountain states. Though they have only 35 per cent of the population, or 45,100,000 in 1940, they have exactly half of the seats in the Senate, 48, with the other 65 per cent of the population having the same number.

Beyond that, he pointed out that the eight mountain states, with a population of only 4,000,000 have 16 Senate seats, while his state of Illinois, with twice that many people, has only two votes in the Senate.

"We of the 24 states of the North, Midwest and Pacific Coast pay 80 per cent or four-fifths of the personal income taxes of the government, while the remaining 24 states pay only 20 per cent or one-fifth of the total," he said.

"The two states of New York and Illinois alone pay approximately a quarter of the entire income taxes of the country or more than all of the 24 states of the south Atlantic, west, and east south central and the mountain states combined.

"We do not complain about this. Our per capita incomes are larger than those of the South and it is only proper that we should pay more taxes.

"We pay the taxes and what we do decides whether we win or lose the elections. But after winning an election, we find it almost impossible to get anything for ourselves or for the nation. We do not ask for position, as individuals, but we do want to further the welfare of the people of the United States, most of whom live in our regions."

Then, he concluded, on top of all of that, the sections which profit so much from the North, Midwest and Pacific Coast insist on using the filibuster, so that "a minority of a minority" controls the Senate.

TODAY IN HISTORY

On March 26, 1942, in Washington, House concurrence dispatched to the White House legislation increasing the national debt limit from $65,000,000,000 to $125,000,000,000.

Summary of Week's Happenings

Congress Has Shifted Into High Gear

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

ONE result of the Senate filibuster, quite apart from ruffled party feelings, is that Congress is facing a log-jam of crucial legislation. Some bills, like national rent controls, had a definite deadline. Unless House and Senate came to terms on extension, rent ceilings would expire next Thursday.

Others, like the labor bill, are soggy with controversy and debate is bound to be both heated and long. Momentous decisions will have to be made on foreign aid and in the Senate, on ratification of the North Atlantic Pact.

In committees and on the floors of both houses last week, Congress stepped up the pace to make up for lost time.

Strategy of Soft Words.

The President, himself, adopted a strategy of soft words. Instead of lashing out at the 81st Congress for the setbacks he has received at its hands, Mr. Truman observed that trouble makers try to make it appear that Congress has junked his whole program every time lawmakers make a decision at all at variance with his recommendations.

"Basically," he said, "the Congress and the President are working together and will continue to work together for the good of the whole country. We are going to agree on a lot more things than we disagree on."

When the final score for the present Congress is added up, he said, some of the "selfish pressure groups are going to be badly disappointed."

"Free Hand" to Rearm.

The President is expected to ask Congress for a free hand in allocating arms to western Europe under the proposed billion-dollar military aid program.

The program is scheduled to go to the Capitol about the same time as the North Atlantic security treaty.

At Home

Helping Rivals.

The United States is putting its trade rivals back on their economic feet and teaching them its own bag of mass production tricks.

Rarely, is ever before, has a nation deliberately financed the revival of its industrial competitors.

Not only are Marshall Plan dollars putting England, France, Belgium and Italy back into the scramble for world trade but to some extent American dollars are reviving the competitive forces of Japan and Germany.

And, currently, the first of a series of European industrial teams are touring U. S. production centers to learn the mass prodction.

* * *

Pact Progress.

The chips are down now in the east-west dispute. Publication of the terms of the proposed North Atlantic security alliance brought a new crescendo to the war of words but no sign of any new action.

Western European nations hail the treaty as their defense against both war and Communism.

Russia, as expected, broadcast that the west is girding for war. Communist leaders outside the Iron Curtain proclaimed the pact would provide atom bomb bases in Europe for the United States.

The security alliance can become effective only after ratification by the member governments. In the United States, this means it has to be approved by the Senate.

* * *

Age-Old Rivalry.

More than 600 big city mayors listened to Bernard Baruch, President Truman and General Eisenhower last week at their annual convention in Washington. They heard a lot about national and international problems but inevitably they got around to discussing a tough problem of their own: the town versus the country.

The cities, reported Mayor George W. Welsh of Grand Rapids, Mich., are creatures of state governments that are controlled by agricultural oligarchies.

A survey has shown, Welsh said, that 59 per cent of the people, who live in cities, elect only 25 per cent of the members of state legislatures.

* * *

Jobs and Prices.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics says the chances are good that national employment will reach 60,000,000 again this year.

"There will be quite a recession if it doesn't," predicts Ewan Clague, bureau commissioner.

As for prices, Clague says: "Wholesale prices seem to have leveled off after their early winter decline. For this reason retail prices will tend to become stabilized too, although they may go down a bit more in further reflecting the earlier wholesale declines."

There have been only "insignificant changes" during the last three months in average earnings of workers, Clague says.

Abroad

Britain Slices Thin.

The Labor government which abolished clothing rationing a fortnight ago had to tighten up on meat rationing. The new slash of 20 per cent allowed Britons about one sparse meat meal a week.

Government spokesman blame lagging Argentine beef shipments for the reduced ration.

The latest cut is a tough one for British butchers. A customer is allowed only ten pence worth each week. Ten pence is 16.3 cents. Of this ration, one-fifth or 3.26 cents worth, must be in corned beef. Even the sharpest slicers in London can't slice it that thin.

The butchers association has proposed that customers buy meat only once in two weeks so it can be sold in respectable hunks, provided, of course, the family has enough ration points. Butchers have promised to trim off more fat.

In Short

Recommended: By the Hoover Commission, a 10th cabinet member to administer welfare and education.

Signed: By President Truman, a bill granting permanent residence in this country to Dr. Chong Kwai Lui, Chinese woman scientist who helped develop the atom bomb.

Announced: By the Russians, a "big new repatriation" of German prisoners of war.

Agreed; by Israel and Lebanon, to sign an armistice, the second between the new Jewish state and one of the Arab nations which vowed to destroy it last May when it declared independence.

Outlawed: The Soviet east mark in the American, British, French sectors of Berlin.

Quotes

Percy Thomas, U. S. federal power commission: "At long last, engineers are ready to harness the wind and to force it to contribute its due share to the electric power for all."

Senator Tom Connally, Texas Democrat: "The very fact that the Soviet and their communist underlings all over Europe have so bitterly denounced and so persistently opposed the Marshall plan is the best evidence we can have that it is bringing economic peace and stability to Western Europe."

Washington Calling

Beware of 'Scare Words'

By MARQUIS CHILDS

THE MOST effective propaganda is to make use over and over again of a few scare words. Hitler knew that. So do the Russians who scream "imperialist warmonger" a thousand times a day.

So, too, do the propagandists in this country who incessantly attack the program of social reform on which President Truman campaigned last fall. The scare word they use is "socialized."

The attack is concentrated with particular fury on the proposed federal health insurance system.

Certainly, that system proposes a radical innovation to raise present standards of health which are too low for a country with the wealth and the resources of the United States.

Whether it would actually raise those standards is, in my opinion, highly doubtful. My doubts of a federal health insurance system are chiefly on two points:

1. The excessive cost of the bureaucratic apparatus necessary to administer such a system on a nation-wide basis. Allied to this is the question of medical standards under an act that would almost surely make concessions to administration by the separate states.

2. The net effect of federal health insurance system might well be merely to spread even thinner the existing facilities for medical care. The problem is to increase facilities rather than to disperse what already exists.

But those who attack health insurance with the word "socialized" are even more vulnerable than the proponents of the system. They talk as though defeat of the federal proposal were an end in itself.

Behind much of what they say is the implication that we can let well enough alone. That is the tone of many of the letters that have come to me in response to a previous column on this issue.

This is not, to be sure, the view of those who have looked at the facts with some objectivity. There are glaring weaknesses in health standards, in hospitalization and in medical care in this country.

* * *

Discussion Has Value.

ONE THING the federal proposal has done is to stir widespread discussion of health and medical care. In my opinion if it had done nothing else it would have been enormously worthwhile. Complacency and smugness cannot be tolerated if the American system is to meet the challenge of communism.

Two stimulating and provocative proposals have been put forward in place of the federal insurance system. One comes from Maj. Gen. Paul B. Magnuson, in charge of medical care in the veterans administration. Dr. Magnuson says:

"As a professional medical man, I am distressed to hear the emotional arguments used by those, on the one hand, who favor compulsory health insurance and by those, on the other hand, who blindly oppose every proposal to meet the problem of national medical care. It seems to me that the proponents of both extremes miss the point — the heart of the problem is the lack of diagnostic and public health facilities."

Dr. Magnuson proposes diagnostic clinics accessible to all the population equipped with the most modern facilities for complete health examinations and staffed with the highest type medical and professional personnel available.

Financial support would come from the federal government, state and local government, and private contributions.

The second proposal comes from Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, who agrees with Dr. Magnuson that one of the chief problems to be solved is protection for low and middle-income families who often find themselves ruined by a long illness. In a speech in Pittsburgh, Senator Taft advanced a four-point program calling for a wide range of federal assistance to raise standards of medical care.

Farmer's Diary

—By CALVIN A. BYERS

YEAR'S AT THE SPRING.

COLD MARCH winds blew and a light covering of snow fell during the night. It covered the greening zones of grass and curled over the edges of streams and highway banks. It gave the black trees wonderful contrasting shadows and made each twig bear a load of fluff such as it had not had all winter.

Driving into town, in the morning, a meadow lark flew parallel to our course and lit in a soft bed of grass so that its wings blew a miniature snow cloud in every direction.

Out of the snow-blown area, as we passed by, the courageous bird tilted up his head, and poured out his strange liquid notes of song. "It's Spring," he seemed to say, defying any one to ignore his joyous challenge.

I watched and saw the bird mount high above the field, singing wildly as its body rose and fell, and my own spirits rose to share in its joyous confidence. The small brown bird had left vibrant overtones of melody singing out of the confusing, snowy cross-currents of the storm.

* * *

SPRING, with its sudden changes of temperature, brings hardship, often, to thousands of wild feathered creatures. Sometimes their bodies lay frozen upon the hillside—mute evidence of suffering for which human kind has small consideration, or may never know.

An ice storm is worst of all, for then ground birds may smother beneath the glaze, or become frozen together. I found two robins, once, securely bound by a big icicle that encased a portion of each of them.

I held the trembling creatures in my hands, and melted off the ice, then released them. All three of us shared a fellow-feeling of release and gladness more than commensurate with the size of the occasion.

Our swamp was awake last night. Red-winged blackbirds jabbered upon the cattail reeds, the frog chorus began to tune up, the upsurge of growth could be almost seen in the popping buds on the trees and shrubbery.

No human hand can stay the progress of the year. God grant each of us a share in the Easter burgeoning!

Machine Outgrows Man, Now Man Lives In Twilight of Ignorance

THE MACHINE is outgrowing people.

It is leaving the average citizen farther and farther behind. He no longer can understand it. At least I can't.

Recently I reached my 38th birthday—and with no sense of victory. After 35 a man celebrates a birthday with the morbid pleasure of a small boy picking at a scab on his knee.

Just for the fun of it I sat down and figured out some of the things I didn't know. It was an amazing list—amazing that a man could live so long and learn so little. The man of the future will probably grow to know more and more about less and less. Until finally he will be able to go through life by just saying "ugh."

("That's about all you say around the house now on most day's, Rover Boy," said my wife).

Here were some of the things I couldn't—and still can't do:

Drive a motor car. (You'd be surprised how many people can't).

Screw in a light bulb in less than ten minutes.

Fix an electric socket, or repair a gadget of any kind.

Tune in a television set or operate a record-changer phonograph.

Sew on a button.

Play any card game except "Old Maid." I also can't play chess, dominoes or assemble a cut-out picture puzzle.

Identify any bone in the human body with certainty except the femur. (The only reason I know this is that a friend of mine broke his, and told me where it was.)

Recognize any flower by name except the rose, or any trees except the elm and the oak.

Build anything, including a doghouse, although I have spent some of the best years of my life in these structures.

Tell the music of any composer except Stephen Foster.

Play a musicial instrument or speak a foreign language.

Tell a mushroom from a toadstool or spinach from kale.

Inhale a cigaret without coughing, or give artificial respiration to a drowning person.

Blow bubble gum—although I've tried—or mix any drink except a highball or an aspirin parfait.

Cook anything except a hard-boiled egg.

Bend over and touch the floor without buckling my knees.

Talk into a microphone without enduring fright, or cash a personal check without a sense of unreasoning guilt.

Read any best-seller novel that has a picture of a bosomy heroine on the jacket.

Ride a horse, milk a cow or hit a clay pigeon with a shotgun.

All of these inabilities leave me feeling rather useless and helpless. And yet I think the average man everywhere can compile a similar list of his own. Most men no longer could live in the forest like Daniel Boone. And they are trapped in a wilderness world of gadgets that nobody can understand but a technician.

They are caught in a twilight ignorance between the lost world of the woods and Doc Einstein's bright new age.

And the changes come faster and faster. The citizen doesn't understand the atom. But he sure does feel like one—an atom circling in an unknown orbit.

New Postal Substation Scheduled

Outlet Sought In Boulevards Area

A new postal substation to serve the south end of the city will be opened in the vicinity of Lexington avenue and Cook road, Acting Postmaster Curtis L. Ford said today.

The station, which will be set up after bids are received, will serve the Woodland, South Boulevards, and South Hills sections, Ford said.

The nearest postal service to this section is the present substation operating over a mile away at 270 South Diamond street. The main post office is over two miles away.

When the new postal service is inaugurated, it will bring the sub-stations in operation in Mansfield to five. Now operating are the sub stations at 270 South Diamond street, 12 Rowland avenue, the corner of Orange street and Central avenue, and 412 Springmill street.

Alonzo Grinnell, 64, of Bellville, victim of another accident Wednesday, also was in "fair" condition at the hospital. Previously, Grinnell's condition was reported as "good" by hospital attendents.

The Benich girl suffered a fractured lower right leg and facial bruises when she ran into the path of a car while playing in front of her home.

Grinnell suffered a broken back and contusions of the head and face when his car crashed through a guard rail and plunged over a 20-foot embankment just north of Bellville on State Route 13.

Meters to Be Shifted By Early Next Week

City workers early next week will complete re-setting parking meters around Central park to provide for parallel parking.

Twenty parking spaces will be lost in the change, Traffic Commissioner Frend C. Boals said, but placing the vehicles parallel to the curb will give approximately 10 feet more driving space.

The 20 parking meters which will be removed will be set in front of the courthouse and on Park avenue east, Boals said. Six of the meters will go to the courthouse, and 14 on Park avenue east.

When vehicles were parked diagonally there were 68 parking spaces around Central Park. There now will be 48 or 20 less, Boals said.

Central Park was the final spot in Mansfield where diagonal parking was permitted. A two-block stretch on Park avenue east had diagonal parking until last summer when parallel parking was incorporated there.

"It was a great improvement," Boals said.

SAFETY MEASURE

Boals said the change in parking will reduce the number of accidents that have occurred in the area. He said most of the accidents, estimated at 100 in 1948, were not serious. "But with the cost of repairs these days, even a bent fender can be expensive," he said.

The increase in truck traffic since Truck Route 30 was routed through the area also was taken into consideration when the change was made, Boals said.

City workers are raising the flagstone curb around the park to seven inches. Street Superintendent E. W. Davis planned this work prior to the decision to re-set the parking meters.

Jefferson Rites Scheduled Monday

Funeral services for William O. Jefferson, 92, retired Mansfield grocer, will be held at the Finefrock funeral home at 10:30 a.m., Monday with Rev. David N. Roller officiating. Burial will be in the Mansfield cemetery. Services had previously been reported as 10 a. m.

Shelby Route Plan Scored

Owners of 43 business places in Shelby are opposed to the extending of Broadway street north to connect with State Route 61, a proposal that's in the discussion stage.

The owners signed a petition, saying the diverting of traffic would be "a detriment to our business and to the growth of the city of Shelby." They added that the proposal re-routes traffic around the business district of Shelby.

Commissioners received a copy of the resolution which was addressed to the Shelby city council. The proposal has been under discussion for about five years.

It was revived at a meeting of the county commissioners with County Engineer Walter E. Rusk, Mayor W. R. Morris of Shelby and officials of the Mansfield Chamber of Commerce last week. Commissioners said today the matter is one for the State Highway department.

Donald W. Hirtz, 20, of Crestline, R. D. 1, was arrested by police yesterday for unsafe operation and ordered to appear in traffic court next Wednesday.

Hirtz was arrested after his auto hit the rear of a car driven by Charles L. Newhon, 25, of 221 North Main street, on Lexington avenue at 3:40 p. m. yesterday. Hirtz told police he was traveling 50 miles an hour when the accident occurred.

According to police, Newhon, traveling south, stopped to let a truck ahead of him make a left turn into Glendale boulevard.

The sheriff's department held an 18-year-old youth, who gave a Cleveland address, in the county jail today after he allegedly attempted to get on a car of a Mansfielder on the Ashland road.

The incident was reported to the sheriff's office by a Mansfield motorist who said the youth jumped on his car and said he wanted to go to Cleveland. Deputies arrested the youth about 8:40 p. m.

Defense Council Formed

Worry Over Pact Hinted

BERLIN —(UP)— Russia has revived its war-time state defense council and is reorganizing its army high command, reports reaching Berlin through usually well-informed channels said today.

American official quarters said the reports indicated Soviet anxiety over the unity of the west under the Atlantic pact.

The defense council, which piloted Russia through World War II, has not been heard of since 1945. At that time its eight members were Premier Josef Stalin, V. M. Molotov, Nikolai A. Bulganin, Georgi M. Malenkov, L. P. Beria, N. A. Voznesensky, A. I. Nikoyan and L. M. Kaganovich.

The last four members to retain departmental portfolios—Molotov, Mikoyan, Vosnesensky and Bulganin—have been relieved of them during the last three weeks, leaving them free to concentrate on policy matters.

All but Vosnesensky remain deputy premiers and members of the Politburo. Voznesensky was relieved specifically of his duties both a chairman of the state planning commission and as a deputy premier, and may have been removed altogether from the Soviet hierarchy.

In the army reorganization, Marshal Semyon K. Timoshenko is serving as chief of staff with Marshal Feodor I. Tolbukhin under him as commander of occupation troops abroad.

Marshal Georgi Zhukov, who was sent into virtual obscurity as commander of the Odessa district after directing the capture of Berlin, was reported designated to become Timoshenko's deputy, while Tolbukhin was said to have requested the transfer of Marshal Vassily Sokolovsky from Berlin to Moscow to be his deputy.

Marshal Konstantin Rokossovsky was believed slated to succeed Sokolovsky as Soviet military governor in Germany.

Marshal Ivan Konev is expected to command the southwest Russian area, including the Balkans, Marshal Rodio Malinovsky to command the Far East area, and Col. Gen. V. V. Kurásov to command the Caucasian-Black sea area.

Death Still Mystery

Funeral services for Mrs. Amanda Musser Saltzgaber, 95, who was found dead in her home on the Olivesburg road Friday, will be conducted from the Finefrock funeral home at 1:30 p. m. Monday by Rev. Henry C. Ter-Vehn, pastor of the Oakland Lutheran church. Burial will be in the Zeiters cemetery.

Mrs. Saltzgaber's body was found in her home at 1 p. m. by a cousin, Lloyd Redding, who lives nearby. Dr. D. C. Lavender, Richland county coroner, said Mrs. Saltzgaber had fallen and broken her right hip, but whether she had a stroke or a heart attack and fell, is not known. She lived alone.

She was born in Franklin township, March 11, 1854, the daughter of Jacob and Malvina Hedrick Musser, pioneer residents of Richland county. She had lived in this area all her life.

A number of cousins are the only survivors. Friends may call at the funeral home.

Death Takes C. W. Caston

Carl William (Ted) Caston, 54, a veteran of World War I, died at Crile Veterans Administration hospital in Cleveland, Friday following a protracted illness.

Born in Mansfield Aug. 1, 1894, Mr. Caston had lived all his life here, making his home at 582 Springmill street. He served overseas during the first world war.

Surviving are his wife, Lucy Blanch Caston and one brother, Fred Caston, of Mansfield.

Firemen Make 3 Trips In 3 Hours, But Find No Blazes

City firemen were called out three times in a little more than three hours last night, but they didn't find any fire.

At 7:55 p. m. yesterday firemen from Central No. 2, and No. 4 stations answered a call to building K at the Westinghouse plant. They discovered a truck had run into an automatic fire alarm box setting off a false alarm.

The second call came at 9:20 p. m. when fireman from No. 2 station went to the bulk plant of the Texas Oil company, Fac-Ware street. A bulk tank, being filled with gasoline, had overflowed and firemen were called to stand by in case of a fire.

At 11:05 p. m. firemen from Central station went to Happy Harry's restaurant, 50 Park avenue west. A motor in a cooling unit had burned out, causing damage to the unit, but no fire.

Asks Action On Election Law Changes

Package Bill Sparks Dispute

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Sen. Carl D. Sheppard has decided that if he can't whip 'em, he'll join 'em. But he may be too late.

Not that the Akron Republican has decided to switch parties. Far from it. He wants his bill to change Ohio election laws considered. But the Democratic-controlled Senate Elections committee is busy with other proposals.

So Sheppard said today he will strip his complicated measure of everything but a Massachusetts ballot provision in the hope of getting quick action.

There's good reason for haste. Committee members all but guarantee a bill containing recommendations from Secretary of State Charles F. Sweeney will be approved Monday night.

The "Sweeney measure" actually will combine a half dozen bills the committee has been considering. Their features will be packaged in one sponsored by Sens. Charles L. Bartlett (D-Hamilton) and Howard M. Metzenbaum (D-Cuyahoga). Bartlett is committee chairman.

Sheppard has demanded on the Senate floor that his bill receive a hearing before the "Sweeney measure" gets committee okay. He said his omnibus election bill would be "bypassed" otherwise.

"Certain rights of mine as a Senator have been impinged by certain acts this session," Sheppard told the Senate.

He referred to reports that 100,000 ballots were thrown out in the last election because of errors by confused voters.

Some of the difficulties have been attributed to complications stemming from election laws sponsored by Sheppard two years ago.

Horoscope

For Sunday, March 27.
By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

SUNDAY'S horoscope shows the advisability of taking time out for not only relaxation and diversion but the wisdom of allowing an introspective study of plans of vital importance, currently on the agenda for keen analysis, or for an imperative period for incubation of new ideas in a more or less critical condition. Frustrations, impediments and stubborn obstacles might melt away during a period of "letting it ride." There may be spectacular denouement for the proper manipulation.

If It Is Your Birthday.

Those whose birthday it is, are confronted by a period of opportunity for making some brilliant coup, this precipitating them into the spotlight, both near and far. Abrupt and sudden factors should give way to changed tactics, with daring, audacity, tackling problems from fresh angles or utilizing new ways and means to launch daring projects or unique propositions, in the face of opposition or want of cooperation. Obstacles melt away in the face of exceptional skill, ingenuity, drastic innovation.

A child born on this day, although serious, studious and responsible, yet may attain conspicuous success through its ingenuity, skill, and originality. Inventive and audacious, it may attain unusual recognition.

For Monday, March 28.
By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE.

MONDAY'S astrological forecast is for a definite move in the direction of putting over unusual plans, projects or ideas, of an inventive or constructive significance. Funds and influence for furthering such exceptional program for expansion and security, are in sight, yet there is a menace from bungling, mistaken judgment or improper tactics. It may be desirable to revise plans, make drastic changes, or to placate some form of opposition or conflict. Make new agreements on a basis of logic and good sense not distorted by emotions or erratic urges.

If It Is Your Birthday.

Those whose birthday it is, are assured an excellent year, with substantial support and influence from those in high places. These may be impressed by the novelty, creative talents and skill, or by the daring and originality of a brilliant deviation from routine techniques, or ways and means of revising old tactics or operations. Be gracious in yielding to, perhaps, superior knowledge or experience, as the judgment may not be as clear or impressive to those whose capital is at stake in launching an experiment. Emotional drives or erratic thinking could forfeit ready promise of long-range openings and security, personal as well as business.

A child born on this day is ambitious, talented and may possess ideas and projects for unusual success, with prestige and popularity. Flashes of complicated thinking or erratic urges could upset its flourishing career.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Western Teams Battle for State Cage Crowns

Prestige Gone for A Schools

By LOREN TIBBALS

COLUMBUS—(INS)—Ohio's 1949 scholastic basketball championships come up for decision in Columbus today and regardless of the outcome of the finals, Class A prestige is destined for a jolt.

It's as inevitable as tomorrow It won't matter whether Hamilton Public or Toledo Central Catholic wins the crown. Nor will it matter whether Lockland-Wayne or Delphos St. Johns is the B winner.

This peculiar situation requires a little explanation and for the answers it's necessary to dig into the season records of the finalists.

Normally the hot shot Class A teams seldom risk their reputations against Class B competition. But during the 1948-49 season, both of the A finalists did just that and—oddly enough—it was against the teams which will meet this afternoon in the state fairgrounds coliseum to decide the state Class B champ.

WON BY THREE

Hamilton, which lost only once in regular season play, tangled with Lockland-Wayne and the Big Blue had to come from behind to nose out the Panthers, 39 to 36. That was the only loss the All-Negro Hamilton county team suffered all season.

Toledo Central Catholic lost only three games before coming to Columbus and one of the Irish defeats was a 54-40 thumping at the hands of Delphos St. John. True enough, the Toledoans won a return engagement with Delphos by a score of 58-41, but still the Saints can point to a victory over Central Catholic.

So, as the title games come up today, here are the odd and unusual possibilities:

If Hamilton defeats Central Catholic and Lockland trips Delphos, Lockland will have plenty to crow about. The Panthers can say that they lost to the A champs by only three points while they won the B crown by turning back another B outfit which defeated the Class A runner-up.

If Toledo Central Catholic wins and Lockland - Wayne beats Delphos, then Lockland can say that they beat the team which beat the Class A king.

Or, to consider another angle, if Delphos wins and Central Catholic beats Hamilton, then the Allen countians can tell the whole world that they are Ohio's best for they beat the A champs during the regular season.

LITTLE GUYS UP

But while the picture is a masterpiece of confusion, it's a wholesome picture for the little guys—the Class B kids who have been squeezed into the background by the A teams since Waterloo's wonders were running wild away back in 1934 and '35.

Regardless of which way the pickle squirts, the B teams seem to be having their inning. And that's the way it should be, for the B clubs—thanks to classy Lockland-Wayne—have been the whole show thus far in the annual state playoffs.

Without Wayne—and regardless of the outcome of the Panthers' brush this afternoon with Delphos St. John, this year's playoffs would have been a very ordinary affair

All of this brings your reporter around to the idea cherished by many cage followers throughout the Buckeye state Like so many fans, we still feel that the Class A and B kings should meet each year to decide a real, sure-fire state champion.

Volleyball Loop Planned At F-H

A Northern Grade school volleyball league for both boys and girls will open at the Friendly House the week of April 4, F-H Athletic Director Mike Wentz announced today.

Trophies for both boys and girls divisions will be awarded at the end of the six weeks planned operation of the league

Tribe Drops Fifth Game In 6 Starts

SAN FRANCISCO—(INS) The Cleveland Indians, somewhat chilled by their San Francisco reception, today moved across the bay to Oakland for another crack at Pacific Coast league opposition.

And if the Oaks prove just as tough adversaries as the San Francisco Seals, the Tribe might just as well have "stood in bed"

The Seals proved more than a match for the world champions as they spilled the Indians, 3-2, yesterday on a ninth-frame rally before 8,000 spectators in 45-degree weather.

ZOLDAK VICTIM

Sam Zoldak was the victim of the Seal uprising which handed the Indians their fifth one-run loss in their last six games. Two singles, an intentional pass and another one-baser led to Zoldak's downfall after the Tribe had tied the score in the top of the ninth.

Lyman Linde started for Cleveland and turned in an excellent job during his six-inning stint.

The rookie right-hander gave up but two hits. Worse luck, however, for the Indians, those two figured in a two-run Seal scoring outburst in the second inning.

The Indians threatened in the first and third innings before finally getting a man across the plate in the sixth. Three consecutive passes to Lou Boudreau, Joe Gordon and Al Rosen filled the sacks, and Thurman Tucker bounced home one run with his infield single.

Herm Reich opened the Cleveland ninth with a single, but was forced on Ray Murray's grounder. Murray went to third on Hal Peck's single and scored a moment later when Second-Baseman Dick Lajeskie of the Seals bobbled Milt Nielsen's grounder.

GARCIA NEXT

Mike Garcia followed Linde to the mound and set the Seals down without a run in the seventh and eight frames. Zoldak took over in the ninth, however, and the Tribe was through for the day.

Seal Shortstop Roy Nicely singled across the winning tally before Zoldak, a disappointment so far this year, could retire a man

Bob Lemon, who hurled three innings against Chicago Thursday, has been named to open for the Indians today against the Oaks.

Buckeye Nine Edges Texans

COLLEGE STATION, TEX., — UP) — The Ohio State university baseball team stopped a late-inning rally by the Texas Aggies yesterday to win, 7 to 6.

The victory put them two-up on the Aggies, having taken the first of a three-game series Thursday The third game will be played here today.

The Bucks had a 6 to 1 lead until the last of the sixth inning when the Aggies tagged Dick Hauck for three runs. Texas then added two more on a double with the bases full off relief pitcher Dick Hess

Fifty Three Out for First Tyger Diamond Practice

Fifty-three boys—25 of them self-admitted outfielders—reported to Coach Mike Byelene at the first Senior high school baseball practice yesterday.

Five regulars and three other lettermen from last year's team were among the group. A sixth regular, rightfielder Charles Merchant, was at the state tournament in Columbus with the basketball squad. Phil Rogers, last year's leftfielder, did not report.

BATTERY BACK

Back in harness was the battery—Lou Gregorio and Joe Miller, shortstop Charley Watts, third-baseman Mike Gruber and centerfielder, Corky Perrine. Second-string catcher Bob Hartnett, outfielder Cy Elsass, and utility infielder Tommy Tucker were also on hand. Hartnett asked to try for the outfield.

Tucker is the leading candidate for the second base position left open by the graduation of Shelly Swank while first base, held down last year by Don Gross, will be a battle royal.

Byelene plans to shift Kenny McCally, promising young catcher to the initial sack but Walt (Buck) McKeever has other ideas. McKeever was the regular first-baseman on the American Legion team which was state runner-up last year while McCally caught for the same squad. One of the boys may end up in the outfield.

Byelene held only a short half-hour session indoors yesterday but plans to start full-scale work Monday at Liberty park. He plans to stress batting and may spend a couple hours on that phase in Monday's workout.

The Tygers' first game is with Madison April 15.

Reporting for the first session yesterday were:

PITCHERS — Lou Gregorio, Dave Hardy, Ken Berkey, John Stranski, Dick Hoeppner, and Walt Maurer.

CATCHERS — Joe Miller, Ken McCally.

FIRST BASEMEN—Buck McKeever, Elliot Stiles, Bud Anderson, and Clayton, Psimer.

SECOND BASEMEN — Jack Kradel, Tom Tucker, Ronnie Rahall Jack Pierce, John Papcum, Loyall Bemiller, and Dave Ebbert.

SHORTSTOPS—Sparkie Watts, William Rock, Jim Gibson, Jim Foss, and Jerry Shasky.

Mitsch's Move To Semi-Finals Of Akron Meet

AKRON — Frankie Mitsch's Corner store of Mansfield ruled a popular favorite in the Ohio Recreation association basketball tournament after upsetting Canton Cal's Place, 49-45, last night.

Mitsch will meet Akron Borden Autos in a semi-final game tonight, while the Dayton Moose opposes Columbus Ben Brew Beer.

The former Madison high cagers came from behind a 34-25 half-time disadvantage to win last night's contest. They led 13-11 at the end of the first quarter but a 23-point outburst by the Canton team looked to sew up the game. Mitsch's roared back to the front however and held on through the final quarter.

Joe Miller, player-manager of the team kept his ball club in the game during the first half by making good on six out of six shots from the field.

Plan Probe Of Decision

NEW YORK — (UP) — The New York boxing commission will begin an inquiry on Monday into last night's widely protested, 12-round split decision that was awarded middleweight Jake Lamotta of the Bronx over Robert Villemain of France at Madison Square Garden.

Col Edward P. F. Eagan, chairman of the commission, announced the inquiry today.

Eagan witnessed the excellent fight from a ringside seat. He heard the five-minute storm of protest from the 11,491 fans. And he learned that a poll of 13 boxing writers at the ringside disclosed that only one — Barney Nagler of the New York Post Home News — thought LaMotta had won.

Gene Rudolph Bowls 656 At Richland

The Barnes Manufacturing circuit—one of the city's smaller bowling leagues, rates top place on the totem pole today by virtue of having one very hot bowler—Gene Rudolph.

Rudolph scored the only honor roll series on Mansfield alleys last night by registering a 656 at Richland Recreation. He did it the hard way, too, with games of 245, 157, and 256.

Runner-up in the league but far below was Nick Loris with 511. C. Gilbert had 501 and Watkins, 475.

★

Bowlers in four leagues at Colony failed to register a single 600.

Perhaps the most outstanding thing of the session was the 2509 team score of the Gay Nineties quintet of the Women's Commercial B league.

Women's city champion Evelyn Marshman led the group with a 202-167-187—556. Teammate Jean Douville had 529 and Cynthia Applan, 505. Marshman's 202 was the top single game in the loop. Other 500,s were a 515 by Janet Demyan of Ingram-Martin and a 504 by Helen Wilhelm of Urschel Insurance.

★

Glenn Yingling led Moose league bowlers with a 571 series, one pin better than the score turned in by Al Stirtzinger. Another pin behind with 569 was Leo Barnes. Orlie Grable cracked out 560. Phil Warga had 549 and J. Nagle, 545.

★

A 570 by John Holda topped scoring in the Independent league. Gene Yarman and Connie Neidhammer tied for runner-up honors with 561. Vincent Kutschall had 523, and Don Wachs 531.

Wildcats, Aggies Battle for Crown

SEATTLE — INS) — Powerful Kentucky is rated a slight favorite to defeat Oklahoma A. & M. tonight for the NCAA basketball title in Seattle's Edmundson pavillion.

More than 12,000 fans are expected to jam the arena to watch Adolph Rupp's fast - breaking wildcats in defense of their crown against the slow-poke, deliberately playing Oklahomans.

Arthur (Otts) Zahn, head basketbll coach at George Washington university, was a top star as a player at the school from 1930 to 1933.

Appleseed's Sport Deal Tops In City

Fired yesterday as Senior high school baseball coach, Jimmy Lymper today announced city's most thorough spring sports program for Johnny Appleseed junior high school.

Lymper has had spring football going for a week at Appleseed and plans to establish varsity baseball and track later as well as intramural golf and tenhis Appleseed also is starting a bowling league.

Football began Monday at the Cline avenue school and will continue until Easter vacation. Then Lymper plans to swing into the stepped-up spring program.

HOT STOVE VETS

Appleseed has always had a track team but this year will mark its second baseball combine. A number of boys who performed in the Hot Stove junior league last year will form the nucleus of the squad. Games are planned with reserve teams of nearby large schools and with the Richland county "B" teams.

Golf will probably have to remain as an intramural sport because of the lack of competition on a junior level.

Of the 49 candidates who reported for the first workout Monday, only three were lettermen from last year's undefeated team. They were Bob and Ned Diemer and Darce Shasky.

Other candidates are George Ackinson, Jerry Holwell, Ronnie Nail, George Reece, Frank Brant, Bill Turner, Earnest Anderson, Sonny Meredorf, Rodger Myers, Jack McBride, Vernon Verdeur, Birmelin, Paul Hering, Ernest Anderson, Mickey Rupp, Dave Ohley, George Bensinger, Don Beddord, Jim Witzky, Dave Bushnell, Bud Chamberlain, Johnny Perry, Zearl Shriner, Paul Hutzelman, Jimmy Shembaugh, Fred Rehberg, Mel Alexander, Chris Book, Bud Vild, Clarence Gouge, Pudge Henkel, Leland Porch, Garry Sholaya, Pete McLaughlin, Marvin Mawhorr, Jack Eliot, Phil Ford, Dave Jacobs, Bill Brumfield, John Northrup, Major Kolin, Don Miller, Jack Kalb, Jack McKinney and John Young.

103 Points Scored At Y

St. John's church league team set a new Mansfield season scoring record last night by smothering DeMolay, 103-49 in an independent game on the YMCA floor.

Four players on St. John's scored more than 20 points. St. John's led only 34-24 at the half, but scored 20 points in the third quarter and made a shambles of the game by running through 49 in the final period.

Hamilton and Toledo Meet In 'A' Finals

By FRITZ HOWELL, Ohio AP Sports Editor

COLUMBUS — Straight-shooting westerners from the sunset side of Ohio will fight it out today for Ohio's 1949 high school basketball championships.

Just as last year, the four eastern representatives fell in the semi-finals in both Class A and Class B. It's an entirely new title cast, but once again the western half of the state stands supreme.

In 1948 Findlay and Hamilton Catholic in Class A, and Lima St. Rose and Eaton in Class B—all a free-throw shot from the Indiana line—won their way into the championship frays. This year, Toledo Central Catholic and Hamilton Public in Class A, and Delphos St. John and Lockland Wayne in Class B, are the finalists.

BREAK RECORD

Hamilton Public and Toledo Central got into the payoff game yesterday as the Big Blue rolled over Niles by 49 to 39, and the Toledo crew broke all Class A scoring records with a 65-51 conquest of Akron St. Vincent.

The 65-point spree was eight ahead of the 57 record amassed a year ago by Hamilton Catholic. The combined total of 116 also bettered the 110 record set in last year's semi-finals as Hamilton Catholic nosed out Coshocton 57-53.

The Class B championship fray comes up at 2:30 p. m., and it's the first time an all-Negro school has ever played in that classic. And Lockland Wayne, the all-Negro entry, looks like a winner. The Praying Panthers have won 31 of 32, losing only to Hamilton Public, and have a terrific 66-point per game scoring record while holding the foe to 31.1.

The Class A game at 8 p. m. has all the earmarks of a ding-dong battle, with some outstanding individual talent on display Hamilton, paced by the spectacular Bill Wilks, is averaging 52.7 against 35.2 for the foe in winning 24 of 25, including a 23-game winning streak.

M'CLOSKEYS HOT

Toledo Catholic, with the sensational McCloskey brothers, Dick and Jerry, aided by Guard Gene Hickey, has won 26 of 29 on an ofensive average of 58.9 and a defensive mark of 42.3.

Wilks led the Hamiltons with 16 points in the win over Niles, in which the losers came back with a 17-point splurge in the last period after being on the short end of a 40-22 count. The flurry failed to close the gap, however. Bespectacled John Weber led the losers with 15 points.

Dick McCloskey, shut out in the first period, roared in for 21 points in the last three sessions to lead Toledo Central to the win over the Akron St. Vincent crew of Coach Eddie Wentz. His brother Jerry got 17, as did Hickey.

Three scoring splurges featured the Akron-Toledo contest. With St. Vincent leading 5-4 in the early going, Toledo caught fire and went for 18 points while Akron was getting two. At the half Toledo was out front 38 to 21 and it looked like a rout in the making.

AKRON COMES BACK

But wily Wentz, in his 25th year at the St. Vincent helm, told his boys a few things at the half and they rolled as the third session opened. Jerry McCloskey got a fielder to make it 40-21, and then St. Vincent came up with a 20-point splurge while Toledo was getting two.

That made it 42-41 for Toledo late in the third period. But the Toledo team surged out front again, scoring 14 while St. Vincent was counting twice. That made it 56 to 43 for Toledo, and that was just about the margin at the finish.

Dick McCloskey suffered a twisted ankle just before the end, and was carried from the floor by teammates. Coach Larry Bondy said he expected his sharpshooting forward to be ready for tonight's contest. Don Donoher, regular guard, is out of the Toledo lineup with a mounting fever.

Can Still Hit . . .

ST. PETERSBURG, FLA. (AP) — Joe DiMaggio, injured New York Yankee outfielder, is piling up quite a mark as a pinch-hitter.

DiMaggio singled yesterday in a pinch-hit role to start a three run seventh inning rally against the Philadelphia Phillies in the Yanks' 6-0 triumph. DiMaggio has hit three singles and drawn four walks in nine trips to the plate as a pinch-hitter.

★

It's Bobo Again . . .

VERO BEACH, FLA. — (AP) — The Washington Senators are convinced that pitcher Sid Hudson is headed for his best year in the majors. Hudson has looked wonderful in training, giving up only one earned run and striking out seven in 11 innings.

But the Senators weren't so happy over yesterday's 5-4 loss at Orlando to their Chattanooga Southern association farm club. Bobo Newson, former Senator, and his one time mates hitless and scoreless for three innings after a shaky start.

★

Have 8-Run Frame . . .

LOS ANGELES — (UP) The Chicago Cubs, who believe in bunching most of their runs in one big inning, did it again yesterday when they came up with a nine-run eighth inning to down the St. Louis Browns, 12 to 5. The Cubs banged out 19 hits, including homers by Roy Smalley, Frankie Gustine and Harry Walker.

The Cubs were scheduled against the New York Giants here today.

★

Shut Out Tigers . . .

ST. PETERSBURG, FLA. — (AP) — St. Louis Cardinal pitchers have run up a string of 18 scoreless innings against the Detroit Tigers. Youngsters Gerry Staley, Bill Reeder and Cloyd Boyer limited the Tigers to four hits yesterday in a 4-0 shutout. The previous day veterans Ted Wilks and Al Brazle turned the trick.

Pirates Beat Giants . . .

BURBANK, CAL. — (UP) — Pittsburgh Pirate Manager Bill Meyer today called on right-hander Bob Chesnes and Bill Werle in an effort to extend the Bucs winning streak to eight at the expense of the St. Louis Browns.

The Bucs notched number seven last night with a 4 to 2 win over the New York giants. An explosive three-run first inning was the winning margin as Murray Dickson, Bob Muncrief and Kirby Higbe held back the giant powerhouse with two tallies.

Yankees Present Major's Biggest 'If' Baseball Squad

By LEO H. PETERSEN
(United Press Sports Editor).

ST, PETERSBURG, Fla —(UP) —The New York Yankees appear to be the biggest "if" team in the majors today

If all their stars recover from injuries and have a good year they could win the American league pennant; if they don't they could slip into the second division, something no Yankee club has done since 1925

Their new manager Casey Stengel, is optimistic and emphatically declares that he was hired to win the pennant and that he is going to do just that. But he has few supporters.

The Yankees have too many players who are question marks, including one of the game's greatest stars, Joe DiMaggio. An operation failed to correct a spur in his right heel and to date no one knows whether the big siege gun of the Bronx Bombers will be ready when the season opens

DiMaggio is not the only cause for them There is Pitcher Spec Shea, who has a mysterious shoulder ailment; Outfielder Charlie Keller, who may be at the end of the trail; Catcher Yogi Berra, who has a sore arm; and Shortstop Phil Rizzuto, who not only has had arm trouble but also has been treated for double vision

Some say Keller is through; others that he is going to comeback If the Yankees could afford to lose any of them long list of cripples, Keller probably is the most dispensable for he was lost to the team most of last season and Johnny Lindell took over satisfactorily.

Stengel's hope is for an outfield of Keller in left, DiMag in center and Tommy Henrich, the old reliable, in right, with Lindell and rookie Gene Woodling in reserve. It could be that none of the three Stengel hopes to start will be out there opening day however. For if Keller and DiMaggio are not ready, it still is possible Henrich will be needed for first base. In that chain of circumstances the Yankee outfield would be Lindell, Woodling and Hank Bauer.

At present Jack Phillips, who only hit .248 with Newark and .279 with Kansas City last year, has the inside track for first since the veteran Babe Young has leg trouble. But the Yankees are high on Young, who failed to make the grade with three different National league teams.

For the rest of the infield there is George Stirnweiss for second, Rizzuto for short and either Billy Johnson or Bobby Brown for third. Berra figures to be the No 1 catcher if he can throw with Charles Silvera, a good looking rookie, and Gus Niarhos and Ralph Houk battling it out for the other two spots.

Stengel claims he has seven starting pitchers in Vic Raschi, Allie Reynolds, Ed Lopat, Bob Porterfield, Tommy Byrne, Fred Sanford and Shea. Joe Page, of course, will be the No. 1 fireman and it looks like Don Johnson and Clarence Marshall may show enough to win the other places on the staff.

Sanford may make a big difference. He won 12 games for the lowly Browns last year while losing 21, but the Yankees bought him in the belief he would become a 20-game winner with them. That could be, but the Yankees still need their big boy, DiMaggio, to keep their pennant hopes alive.

Jesus Heals People of Other Races — ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Mark 7:24-37; Luke 7:1-10.

Jesus went into a house in the neighborhood of Tyre and Sidon, hoping to escape notice. A Greek woman came and fell at His feet, pleading with Him to cast out a devil which plagued her young daughter.

After talking with the woman and listening to her, Jesus told her the evil spirit had been cast out of her child. The woman hastened home, to find the evil one had gone and her child lying on her bed.

Near the Sea of Galilee, a man who was deaf and had an impediment in his speech was brought to Jesus. Putting His finger in the man's ears and touching his tongue, Jesus gave him back hearing and perfect speech.

In Capernaum a Roman centurion came to tell Jesus that his beloved servant was dying, and asking help. The Roman showed such faith that the servant was cured without the Lord's presence.

MEMORY VERSE—Galatians 6:10.

This Week In the Church World

Will Spend Half Million In '49

By NITA BRANSON

The year 1949 will probably be known in Mansfield church history as the year in which more than a half million dollars was spent on church building projects.

The latest two purchases were made this week when the Holy Trinity Evangelical Lutheran church of South boulevards (this is the new name for the Mission there) bought a church site for $4,000 and the Park Avenue Baptist church purchased a parsonage for $19,000.

Bids will be opened next Thursday for the building of the new $400,000 church home of the First Congregational church at the corner of Marion avenue and Millsboro road.

On Sunday March 13, the First Lutheran church voted to spend $97,000 during the coming summer for church repairs and remodeling.

This sum so far adds up to $520,000 and does not represent the plans in the making by at least two other churches. They represent many thousands of dollars more if thos plans materailze.

Both the B'nai Jacob Temple and the St. Paul Lutheran church have remodeling in mind. However, plans are still in the discussion stage. Both congregations acknowledge that something must be done to care for the increasing number of worshippers and the expansion of plans but Rev. John G. Gensel of the St. Paul and Rabbi Moshe Goldblum of the B'Nai Jacob synagogue, say that nothing definite has as yet been decided.

The B'nai Jacob congregation is considering revamping the second floor of the Temple at 50 Sturges avenue for Sunday School and Hebrew school rooms. New type desks are being considered for the rooms, with a revamping of the lighting system and redecorated walls. The men's club of the Synagogue has taken over this project with the aid of the Sisterhood and will manage further details. Leo Budin is chairman of plan-making.

NEW BAPTIST PARSONAGE—This nine-room house was purchased this week for $19,000 from J. Harvey Dickson. Located at 560 Marion avenue, the home will be occupied by Dr. W. M. Taylor, pastor of the Park Avenue Baptist church, sometime during May. Purchase of the new home was a memorial to the late Miss Katherine Bauer, whose bequest to the church made the transaction possible.

The need for additional Sunday school rooms is also being felt at the St. Paul Lutheran church. The tentative plans there call for the reconstruction of the church basement with a newly remodeled kitchen and a new furnace.

The second phase, still in the "talking stage" according to Rev. Gensel, is the erection of a basement building between the church and the parsonage on West Third street. This basement would take care of expansion in the Sunday school. Later, educational rooms could be built as a first story over the basement quarters.

The $97,000 voted by members of the First Lutheran church will provide for the erection of a new building at the rear of the present parsonage lot next to the church at the corner of Park avenue west and Mulberry street and the installation of an entire new hearing unit in that building.

With the removal of the present heating unit from the basement of the church, the entire basement floor will be revamped, remodeled and redecorated for expanded Sunday school rooms for the children of the primary and beginners department. When this stage of the building program is completed, the congregation will take up the matter of a new Mueller organ, revamping the church chancel and redecorating the auditorium. But that will be a later proposition for which a second campaign for money will have to be conducted.

Attendance Hits 10,000

At the half-way mark in the current evangelistic campaign, 10 000 persons today had attended the services in Johnny Appleseed auditorium, where nightly, Rev. Jack Shuler preaches.

Tomorrow starts the final week of the services which started March 13 and will close April 3. Twenty five churches are participating. Rev. Charles L. Shook, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church, heads the movement.

So far 100 persons have made decisions for Christianity and have named the churches of their choice. To date $2 400 has been contributed. This, according to Rev. Shook, is only a few hundred dollars short of meeting campaign expenses. Tomorrow afternoon and evening, the offering will go as J. Stratton Shufelt's share in the campaign. That for Les Barnett will be taken next Wednesday evening and for the evangelist, next weekend.

Tonight, the revival campaign will be host to members of the Youth for Christ rally, which has relinquished its monthly meeting in favor of the campaign. George McNair, director of the Youth for Christ movement here, will take part in the services.

Rev. Shuler will speak on the subject, "How to Make a Champion."

Tomorrow at 2.30 p. m. there will be a mass meeting, when Rev. Shuler speaks on the subject, "Gullible Suckers and Pulpit Saboteurs." Tomorrow night, he will give a sermon on the theme, "Forty Minutes in the Devil's Workshop."

Les Barnett, organist for the campaign will play tomorrow morning at the First United Presbyterian church and speak during the worship service.

TALKS AT INFIRMARY

Rev. Charles W. Stoneburner, pastor of the First Methodist church, assisted by members of the choir, will hold worship service at the Richland county home tomorrow at 2:30 p. m.

An early timekeeper was the Egyptain water-clock which operated on the principle of the hourglass.

Lutheran Mission Church Sets April 10 As Organization Date

Sunday, April 10, will be a great day for members of the Mansfield's newest church—the Holy Trinity Evangelical Lutheran of South Boulevards.

On that day, the members—who now number 58—will be formally organized and will elect permanent officers in church and Sunday school curriculum.

With the purchase of a church site at the corner of Lexington avenue and Cook road this week, the church congregation is ready to launch itself on a permanent basis.

According to church procedure the congregation must vote to organize before organization can be completed. That vote will be taken on Sunday, April 3. After organization is completed on April 10 the church will be incorporated, then presented for acceptance at the Ohio Synodical conference in Canton, May 2 to 5.

After the church has been taken into the Synod of Ohio plans can be furthered for the erection of a church home on the new site.

Extensive plans have been made for the organization Sunday, April 10. On that day there will be a reception of the 58 charter members either by confirmation or transfer. Dr. Clyde Xander, missionary superintendent of the Synod of Ohio will speak and there will be a special observance in the Sunday school.

In addition to Dr. Zander, Dr. Arthur Knudsen, secretary of English Missions of the board of American Missions of the United Lutheran church and Dr Elwood Bowman, of the board personnel, will also be guests for the day.

The offering for the day will go toward the building fund.

Committees set up for the organization day include: Rev. Wray Smith, general chairman; Robert Ernest, treasurer in charge of finances; Lester Wendland, secretary, Lloyd C. Stafford and Donald Cover, certificate of membership; Carl Wolfarth, chairman, Harry Brumfield and Donald D. Cram, reception; Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Evans, invitations; Donald Cram city and pictures. Harry Colbow Sunday school superintendent and William Wolfarth, Sunday school secretary, will also have a share in the plans as will Mrs. Oliver Brooker, church pianist.

Regular committees of the church serving on a temporary basis are: Cram, Lowell Hamilton. George Schuchmann and Robert Glessner, evangelism. Mrs. Lester Wendland, chairman and Mrs. Marjoris Huffman, altar guild; Donald T. Cover, stewardship; Samuel LaBrie, chairman, Mrs Donald Cram and Mrs. Richard Wirick, music; Robert Glessner, chairman, Edward Schuler and Byron O. Brenner, constitution.

Set World Relief Goals

Goals exceeding $4,000 have been set by Mansfield churches for the world-relief offering tomorrow.

Congregations in the city's churches are expected to contribute thousands of dollars to aid the victims of war and oppression.

The campaign will be given a send-off by President Truman and other notables in a nationwide radio appeal from 8 to 9 o'clock tonight. Hollywood Stars Robert Montgomery, Gregory Peck and Ida Lupino will participate in the broadcast.

This week many Mansfield churches have distributed special envelopes for the relief contribution and literature telling of the "One Great Hour" tonight and tomorrow morning's services.

At the First Lutheran church, the World Action quota for the year is more than $4,000. It is hoped, Rev. Carveth P. Mitchell said, that this may be contributed in the nationwide correlation of gifts tomorrow morning.

Rev. Samuel U. J. Peard said that he hoped his congregation at the Grace Episcopal church would raise $600. That was the total in a similar contribution last year. At the St. Matthew's Lutheran church, Dr. Charles F. Sheriff said the tentative goal was about $650, and Rev. J. C. Melchert of the St. John's church hoped to raise the second half of a $2,890 goal tomorrow morning.

Arrangements in the Mansfield area for promoting this project have been in charge of Rev. David N. Roller, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. Rev. Roller represents the Richland County Ministerial association, which named him to head the project.

At the Park Avenue Baptist church, the relief program will be combined with the Loyalty Enlistment Service of the church which was planned prior to the announcement of the "One Great Hour" project. Dr. W. M. Taylor said that mission pledges toward world relief would be included in the service.

New Officers Take Posts

Lowell Hess has been installed as president of the John Simpson YMCA Junior Hi-Y club at the "Y", Charles H. Hornbrook, the group's adviser, announced today.

Finds No Discrimination Against Richland Veterans

There has been no discrimination against Richland county war veterans applying for civil service jobs, Glenn H. Corbett, civil service investigator for the Sixth Civil Service region headquarters, reports following visit here.

Corbett had been called to Mansfield by the Richland County Joint Veterans committee to investigate complaints that Richland county vets had not received proper preference when applying for civil service positions.

Meeting with veterans and members of the Richland JVC Wednesday night at the Amvets club rooms on West Fourth street road, Corbett said the situation in Mansfield is not as bad as it is in other places where veterans have applied for civil service jobs.

Attending the meeting were 13 veterans who claimed they had encountered discriminatory practices in applying for civil service positions in the Veterans Administration postal service, and the railway postal service.

Corbett said all the complaints would be thoroughly investigated by his office, but he saw no cases of discrimination as the complaints were presented.

Roslyne Todd, president of the Richland JVC, invited all Richland county vets to attend all future meetings of the JVC, and to present their complaints of any unfair practices toward veterans.
